

Dear Sir/Madam

Slick Seating Systems Ltd are pleased to announce their new corporate structure following their acquisition by GL Events.

Global event services supplier GL events, owners of UK based Temporary Structure suppliers GL events Owen Brown and Snowdens earlier this month announced the acquisition of 70% of Slick Seating Systems Ltd in a deal that will further strengthen GL events' Services division and enable Slick Seating Systems Ltd to pursue its ambitious expansion plans .

Created in 2000, building on experience acquired as a consultant for installers of temporary equipment for the Sydney Olympic Games, Slick Seating Systems has become a leading designer , manufacturer and producer of grandstands and seating solutions for the UK and worldwide markets

Its offering covers the installation of complete stadia or individual stands and long-term rental including grandstands for stadiums as well as temporary installations for events.

Olivier Hohn Managing Director of GL events Structures and Grandstands Division comments "this acquisition will enable GL events to strengthen its presence in the market for grandstand installations and seating solutions for events and complete the Group's range of expertise by becoming both a designer and manufacturer of grandstands and seating systems."

Founder Lea Adams will remain CEO and shareholder at Slick Seating Systems Ltd and all other senior personnel will continue in their existing roles ensuring a continuity of existing projects and expertise for future projects .

Slick Seating Systems looks forward to continuing its relationship with existing suppliers and customers and forging new relationships with customers and suppliers of the future.
